A&WMA Lake Michigan States Section
Announces Keynote Speakers for the 2018 Waste Conference

We are pleased to announce the 2018 A&WMA Lake Michigan States Section Annual Waste Conference will be held on Wednesday, May 23, 2018 at the Union League Club in downtown Chicago.

In addition, we are excited to announce three of the key speakers for this year's conference:

Adina Renee Adler, Senior Director for International Relations, The Institute for Scrap Recycling Industries (ISRI) in Washington, DC. ISRI is the "Voice of the Recycling Industry™" with 21 chapters representing 1,300 companies operating in nearly 4,000 locations in the U.S. and 34 countries worldwide. Adina represents the industry in international negotiations, speaks publicly about the benefits of trade to the scrap recycling industry and builds coalitions to advance common interests for recyclers.

Albert Kelly*, Senior Adviser to U.S. EPA Administrator Scott Pruitt and lead for the agency's Superfund Task Force which was commissioned on May 22, 2017 and includes leaders from EPA's Office of Land and Emergency Management, Office of Enforcement and Compliance Assurance, Office of General Counsel, EPA Region 3 (as the lead region for the Superfund program), as well as other offices. The mission of the Task Force is to streamline EPA's Superfund program.

Kevin Igli, Senior Vice President and Chief Environmental Officer of Tyson Foods, Inc. Mr. Igli leads a team of more than 400 environmental professionals and oversees the company's environmental compliance, regulatory affairs, and risk management processes in collaboration with all business operating units and enabling support functions (e.g., food safety and quality assurance, engineering, legal, finance, accounting, etc.).

Full conference information, agenda and registration is anticipated to be distributed by March 1, 2018. Watch your inbox for information. We look forward to having you joining us for this exciting conference.
